VERMONT RESIDENT SERVICE COORDINATORS, INC.

History of VRSC

In 1995, a small group of Vermont resident service coordinators began meeting informally for support and information. In order to meet the HUD mandated guidelines for service coordinators, the group added an educational training session to the quarterly meeting agenda.

The need for professional development continued to grow and, as a result, the group decided to organize and incorporate.

In 2002, VRSC's by-laws were written, the first officers were elected, and the group incorporated to become Vermont Resident Service Coordinators, Inc.

VRSC Meetings

Meetings are a valuable tool for resident service coordinators to learn from professional experts, engage in discussions among themselves, and conduct peer supervision sessions. Meetings take place three times a year, with a winter hiatus to avoid having to drive in inclement weather.

VRSC Partners

Vermont Housing Finance Agency

Throughout the process of VRSC's development, Vermont Housing Finance Agency (VHFA) has been a constant presence. Sam Falzone, VHFA's Director of Multifamily Programs, attended the first meeting of interested Resident Service Coordinators after the HUD training mandate was published. Since the beginning, VHFA has assisted, sustained, and shared in VRSC's work and success.

Vermont Housing Managers Association

In a newly formed collaboration, VHMA and VRSC recognize each other's membership status and share training opportunities. Both organizations believe that managers and resident service coordinators face the same challenges inherent in managing elderly and family housing facilities and therefore, VRSC and VHMA are partnering on training events to support the common purpose of each other's organizations.

New England Resident Service Coordinators, Inc.

NERSC and VRSC cross-promote trainings through their websites as well as in NERSC's monthly e-newsletter. In addition, NERSC provides visibility and membership recruitment opportunities at the annual conferences.

The Vermont Resident Service Coordinators group is dedicated to the professional development of Resident Service Coordinators across Vermont.
